- ✓ The Anglo-Saxons were made up of three tribes: the Angles; Saxons; and, Jutes.
- ✓ They name 'Angles' eventually became 'English' and their land became 'England'.
- ✓ They came to Britain from across the North Sea in the middle of the 5th century.
- ✓ For a long time, England was not one country, Anglo-Saxon kings ruled lots of small kingdoms across the land.
- ✓ The Anglo-Saxons were fierce people who fought many battles, including fighting each other.
- ✓ The Anglo-Saxon period ended when the Normans conquered Britain in 1066.

Where did they come from?

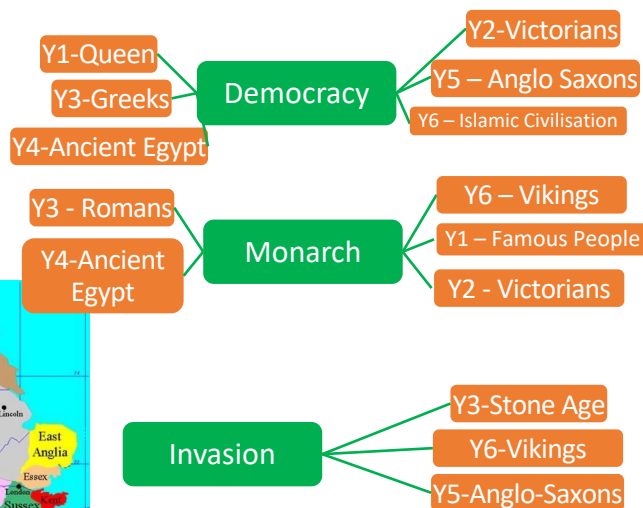

The Romans left Britain in 410 due to fierce tribes attacking Italy and every soldier was needed back at home to defend the country. Without an army of its own, it left the country vulnerable to attackers. The Anglo-Saxons came from Denmark, Netherlands and northern Germany across the North Sea in wooden boats. They conquered England but failed to conquer Scotland, Wales and Cornwall (an area of south-west England).

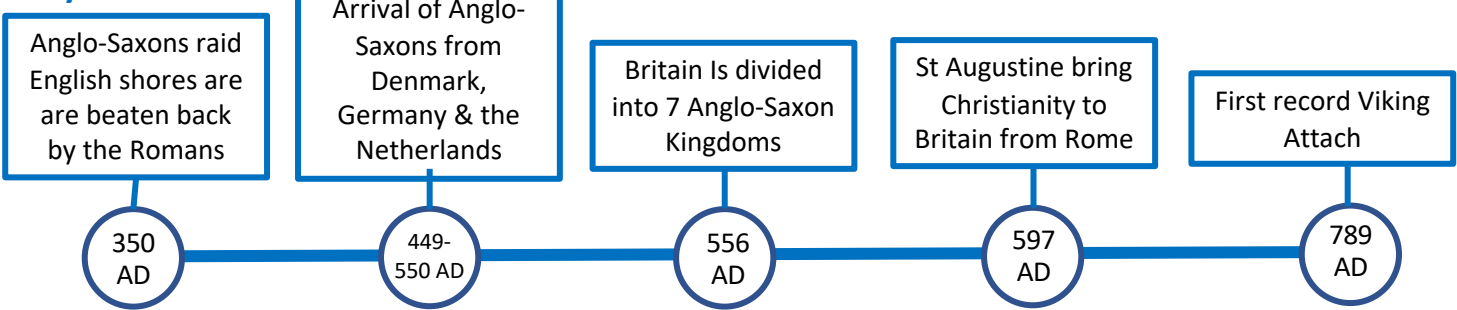

Big Idea

The Anglo-Saxons also brought their own religious beliefs, but the arrival of Saint Augustine in 597 converted most of the country to Christianity. The Anglo-Saxon period lasted for 600 years, from 410 to 1066, and in that time Britain's political landscape underwent many changes.
