

Mr. Done's thought of the week

It's been another superb week at Masefield with children uncovering a world of possibilities. We aim to inspire each and every child in each and every class to reach true academic brilliance and this week has been great to see our children settle into their classes following the Christmas break.

As you will have seen in the news, strike action has been taken by one teaching union. At this moment, we expect school to continue to be open for all classes - I will continue to update you if this changes at the earliest convenience.

Outside, you will see we have started work on developing a new forest schools area - this is following the successful trial in KS2 enrichment last year.

Thank you for your ongoing support, Mr Done.

Knowledge days

Our latest knowledge day this week was a great success! It was lovely to welcome our parents in to see what the children have been working on so far this term.

Coffee Morning

We have another SEN coffee morning coming up on Thursday 16th Feb 9am-10am— If you are an SEN parent please feel free to pop in for a brew and a chat!

Some of our Masefield children were lucky enough to have a trip out this afternoon to see King Charles's visit to Bolton for its 150th anniversary.

We have started the new year off with a very busy two weeks...

But still found time for some fun in the snow!

Greek Day

Year 3 have their Ancient Greek Day on Monday 30th January. The children are invited to dress up as an Ancient Greek. They will be tasting Greek food and making their own Greek themed pottery.
