

What a fantastic start to a new term! Pupils have started their new learning this week in many subjects across the curriculum and it's been wonderful to see our engaged and motivated pupils in each classroom. You will receive a 'curriculum overview' for your year group this week along with knowledge organisers for each subject area. Alongside this will be a home learning menu and text link to recordings of our 'Reading Workshops' - please take a moment to watch these. We expect all building work to be completed next week and are thankful for your patience and understanding during the disruption.
