

Miss Yapp's thought of the week

How wonderful has it been to see the sun shining this week?

The lighter mornings and evenings have also been a delight too. Book week this week has been excellent. I have seen lots of fantastic learning both in school and from the children who are learning at home.

Thank you for all of your efforts with the children's costumes too, they looked fantastic. I hope you all have a restful weekend - we are so excited to welcome ALL of our children back on Monday!
